the audience to hear passively, and they joined in on the second verse, which, at its conclusion, was cheered vociferously. It was a red-letter day for music. At noon the Expesition orchestra, directed by Mr. Pendix, gave a concert. The attendance was large and the auditors enthusiastic. Continuous concerts were given in the open air by Sousa's, the Cincinnati and the Chicago bands during the day and evening. "Provided the railroads will do the fair thing, one of the biggest days at the fair will come between July 24 and 29," said a representative of the Commercial Travelers' Association to-day, when taking of "drummers' day." "There are 200,000 of us." he continued, "and we are all world's fair enthusiasts. We recognize the fact that this fair is the finest that was ever held from a traveling man's stand point. It will give us all an opportunity to see what the other fellows are doing and thereby give us the points in argument which can be best used on the prospective customers." The arrangements being made for the traveling men's world's fair celebration are ample and far reaching, and are the result of the work of the few who conceived the scheme in the interest of the many who will come, but who did not acquire the necessary motion to make "drummers' day" a possibility.

ROW OVER A PICTURE. Haisey C. Ives, the head of the art department, has roused the wrath of the gentleman in charge of the French art exhibit at the fair, and of A. A. Anderson, an artist of New York, in particular. So much indignation has Mr. Ives aroused that there is every probability that the courts will be asked to enjoin him from interfering with the management of the French exhibit. On the wall one of the rooms containing the French pictures is one painted by Mr. Anderson. Its title is a "Women Taken in Adultery." The picture is said to have taken medals at the Paris salon of 1889 and in Berlin two years later. When Mr. Anderson offered it in exhibition in the United States Art Department it was refused, the reason being given that it was immoral. The gentlemen in charge of the German, Austrian and French exhibits at once offered Mr. Anderson space for his picture and he accepted the offer of France. To-Mr. Ives caused a crimson piece cloth to be stretched before the picture, claiming that it was too immoral for exhibition. The French strongly objected, claiming that Mr. Ives as no more to do with the pictures in th rench exhibit at the world's fair than he has with those now on exhibition in the galleries of Paris. They say that he is going toe far when he attempts to say what other nations shall or shall not exhibit, and they threaten to take the matter into the courts and have Mr. Ives and his crimson closh enjoined.

received what appears to be another severe set back. John Boyd Thatcher, chairman of the committee on awards, has nominated three men to act as judges in a dairy contest, thus, it is claimed, breaking the rules.
Mr. Thatcher explains, however, that the nomination of three dairy judges only demonstrates the elasticity of the regulations, and that the appointment of more than one judge is permitted when found necessary or desirable. It is said that the commisioners from European countries contemplate establishing a board of awards of their own, ignoring the exposition juries. Alfred de Clarapede, the Swiss minister to the United States, arrived in the city from Washington to-day. He had been wired for by Consul Hollinger on account of the recent arrest of a Swiss exhibitor by the United States authorities for disposing of exhibits at the fair. Mr. Clarapede called on District Attorney Milebrist today about the affair, and after an explana-

The one-man plan of making awards has pressed his entire satisfaction with the course pursued. It is highly probable that considerable more thievery is going on in the different buildings than is made public. The detectives insist that robberies be kept quiet that they may quicker apprehend the criminals, and for this reason the report of the thefts do not get beyond the department chiefs. Last night two valuable specimens of gold were stolen from a case in the exhibit of George L. English & Co., of New York, which is located in the west gallery of the Mines Building. There is no clew tion of the action of the government ex-

to the robbers. Pedro Almida, world's fair commissioner in charge of the Portuguese exhibit, was found wandering about Lake avenue this morning, with his mind completely unhinged. The unfortunate stranger had $2,-500 in his pockets and over $1,000 worth of front Hotel. The police took charge of him and notified his friends.

DECRYING THE FAIR.

Astor's English Newspaper Joins in the Attempt to Frighten Away Visitors. Special to the Ladianapolis Journal.

LONDON, May 27.-The English public have been much preplexed, recently, by the contradictory reports sent abroad conperning the conditions and prospects of the world's fair. While some reports have been so unfavorable as to cause the public to look for quasi-obituaries of the whole undertaking, most of the British correspondents at Chicago extol the rapidity with which the work is being pushed and predict a grand success for it. Sinclair, of the Daily News, has sent long and landatory descriptions of the grounds and buildings at Jackson Park. The Times to-day says that the amount of the daily receipt now exceeds the running expenses of the fair and there is no reason to suppose that the awards will not be fairly made.

The Pall Mall Gazette, Mr. Astor's newspaper, on the other hand, compares the daily average of visitors at the Paris Exposition with that at Chicago, and asserts that the present fair is a big financial failure. It warns Englishmen intending to visit the fair that the grounds are ten miles from the city, and that the hotels are charging enormous prices for wretched fare. Several New York newspapers are quoted, moreover, as stating that the prices in the Chicago restaurants are beyond all reason, and that visitors in the city may resign themselves to exceptional discomforts. These reports are discouraging many Englishmen who had determined to go the fair from attempting the journey.

Will Not Be Closed by Soldiers. Washington, May 27 .- The War Department has been annoyed by the insinuation from certain quarters that the two troops of cavalry that have been ordered from Fort Snelling, Minnesota, to Chicago, are intended to take some part in enforcing a decree against opening the fair on Sunday. Acting Secretary Grant says they are sent to Chicago simply to perform some necessary guard duty, and points to the fact that the troops will not arrive in Chicago until after next Sunday, the date which is expected to be critical in the bistory of the exposition. In view of the large additional excursion traffic anticipated in consequence of the ex-position. Chief Supervising Steamboat Inspector Dumont has issued a circular, enjoining upon all officers of the service to be exceptionally vigilant in enforcing a strict compliance with the laws relating to the overcrowding of both passenger and excursion steamers, to the end that passengers on steam vessels may have the utmost confidence in the safety of American steam-

State University Team Takes a Well-Earner Victory from Purdue.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. LAFAYETTE, Ind., May 27 .- Indiana University defeated Purdue to-day by a score of 3 to 1. A large crowd witnessed the game, which was the most interesting of the season. The playing was almost errorless from beginning to end. Utter pitched splendid ball for Indiana University. and Olin did as well for Purdue. Each team made one hard-earned run in the third inning, and the score remained even until the eighth when Indiana University made two well earned runs. Purdue tried bard, but failed to even up. The two teams are now even in points, and it is probable that they will play again for first place in the State League, Score:

How the Clubs Stand, The wind-up of the intercollegiate series does not turn out to be what was predicted earlier in the season. Then DePauw was supposed to have a mortgage on the penpant, but after her "wow and wumpus" at Crawfordsville, virtually throwing away a game, she was taken into camp in great shape by Purdue, and is practically out of the race. The State University boys kept up a stiff nerve in the face of the defeat by De Pauw and tied Purdue for first place yesterday by defeating the boiler makers. Wabash is very slow with her games. The club should make it a rule to fill dates as rapidly as possible. Hanover has a brilliant run of four defeats. The clubs stand as follows: Won. Lost. Won. Lost.

Princeton, 5; Pennsylvania, 4. PHILADELPHIA, May 27--Princeton defeated Pennsylvania in a ten inning game this afternoon on the University grounds. YALE DEFEATS BARVARD. Great Contest in Field Sports Between the Eastern Colleges Yesterday. NEW YORK, May 27 .- The blue of Yale College was the only color visible at the Manhattan field this afternoon at the close of the eighteeth annual intercollegiate athletic games. The crimson of Harvard had shone out an hour earlier, but its radiance was dim at the finish. The rest of the college colors were but faint shadows, the attendant circles of light outside the central brilliance of the rambow of blue. Yale ran away with the intercollegiate cup with nearly thirteen points to spare. The nearest the Harvard boys ever came to their score was seven points. A fashionable assemblage of over four thousand stylishly-dressed men and women saw the games, which are one of the greatest events of the season in Eastern college circles. and each year they are looked forward to with great interest by the admirers of healthy outdoor athletic exercises. This occasion was no exception, and had it not been for the threatening weather there would doubtless have been twice as many present. The boys had the satisfaction of lowering some of the intercollegiate official records, and their warm admirers grew very enthusiastic. The two-mile bicycle record of 5:47 25 was lowered to 5:41 45 by W. H. Glenn, jr., of Yale. In fact, each of the three trial heats were run in less time than the old record. The sixteen-pound hammer record was also broken by W. O. Hickok, of Yale, who covered 110 feet 412 inches, the old record being 107 feet 742 inches. In pole vaniting C. T. Buchoitz, University of Pennsylvania, cleared 10 feet 101/s inches. beating the old record by three-eighths of an inch. Another record was lowered by W. O. Hickok, who put the sixteenpound shot 41 feet is of an inch, beating the old record by 2% inches. Nearly all of the events were extremely interesting, and they were all very generally appreciated. There were fourteen events in all, and each first place counted five points, with two for second and one for third. In all it was possible to score 112. Yale made 47 13; Harvard, 24 56; University of Pennsylvania, 11; Princeton. 10; Wesleyan, 5; Brown, 2; Columbia, 1 1/3, and Cornell, 2. Since the association was formed Har-

Dr. Hamilton Griffin, Stepfather of Mary Anderson Navarro,

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 27.—A private cablegram received here to-day from London, announces the death of Dr. Hamilton Griffin, steptather of Mary Anderson Navarro, at an early hour this morning, after an tilness of several weeks. Dr. Hamtiton has been in bad health for nearly a year, being a sufferer from Bright's disease, About a year ago he was knocked down and run over by a cart while crossing a street in London. Several ribs were broken and he was otherwise minred. He never fully recovered from the shock, and when he visited Louisville last fall, just after the death of his brother, the Hon. Gilderoy Griffin, he was still very weak and walked with difficulty, finding a cane necessary.

In 1867 Dr. Griffin married the widow of Charles Henry Anderson, the mother of Mary Anderson Navarro, Mrs. Anderson had two children, Mary, the elder, and Charles Joseph Anderson, who was born in 1863, and who, a few years ago, married the daughter of Lawrence Barrett, and who is now living in London. By this marriage two children, Blanche and Frank Griffin, were born. Frank is at the head of a large publishing house in New York, and Blanche is with her mother, Mrs. Griffin, in London, In 1875 Dr. Griffin gave up his practice, and used all his influence toward getting Mary Anderson upon the stage. Her great success is due, in a large measure, to Dr. Griffin's untiring exertions. From Miss Anderson's first appearance in Louisville, until her first trip to England. Dr. Griffin was her manager. This period extended from January, 1876, to 1883. Since retiring from the management, Dr. Griffin has spent most of his time abroad. Dr. Griffin leaves a wife, two children and two stepchildren, spoken of above. One sister, the wife of Mr. Albert F. Winn, also survives bim.

Other Deaths. MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., May 27 .- Rockwell Tyler, lieutenent colonel of the Fifty-sixth Regiment, New York Volunteers, Tenth Legion, died at White Sulphur Springs, Sullivan county to-day, aged sixty-eight. The Fifty-sixth Regiment was raised by General Van Wick, afterwards Congressman from this district and latter United States Senator from Nebraska. When Van Wyck took his seat in Congress. Tyler was placed in command of the regiment and came home at its head when the war was over. He had been postmaster since 1889 and president of te Tenth Legion Association.

WILBER, Neb., May 27 .- Hon. Castner Hanway died at his home here last night. aged seventy-three. He was a distinguished Mason, being an honorary member of every Masonie lodge in Pennsylvania. He also had the distinction of being tried for treason against the United States. After a trial lasting seventeen days be was acquitted.

LOUISVILLE, May 27 .- Capt. Enoch Lockhart, aged seventy-nine years, one of the oldest and best known steamboatmen on the Ohio river, died early this morning. He was superintendent of the Louisville & Portland canal for twenty-three years, returning to the river when the government assumed control of the canal.

Greatness of Chicago,

Chicago has demonstrated berself to be the matchless mistress of the world. She will ret be the commercial center of the world. Chicago will be the admiration and wonder of the world, and from benceforth will stand first among American cities, and, therefore, first among the world's cities. Chicago will be the solar and focal point of the universe. She has a wonderful career before her.

Prohibitionists Break Into Saloons and Destroy Liquor and Furniture.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal Wichita, Kan., May 27 .- Last night a committee of the Law and Order League of Cheney, composed of men and women, began a raid on the saloons. After closing up two places by seizing and emptying in the streets all the stock in trade the crowd descended upon the Cheney Hotel, where a bar was in full blast. The owners had been apprised of their approach, and when the crusaders arrived they found barred and a band men within ready to repel any assault. Nothing daunted, the attack commmeced and the doors of the house were finally battered in and a frantic crowd of prohibi-tionists fought their way to the bar, where they seized all the liquors and broke up all the furniture. They then turned their attention to the proprietors, but after a hard fight the latter succeeded in making their escape from the house, only to find themselves chased a crowd of self-constituted avengers. The fleeing men finally found safety in a buggy, in which they were rapidly driven out of town, arriving here this morning. Already suits have been commenced against Cheney for damages.

Another Relapse from Which, His Physician Says, He May Not Recover.

NEW YORK, May 27 .- Dr. St. Clair Smith, Edwin Booth's physician, said, when he left his patient at midnight: "Mr. Booth's condition is much more serious than it has been for some time. He is weaker and has been partially unconscious since afternoon. He cannot recognize any one. Without a great rally, it is doubtful if he recovers from this last attack."

HORTICULTURAL HALL BURNED.

Loss of $120,000 at Philadelphia Caused by a Gas Jet and Fireworks, PHILADELPHIA, May 27 .- Horticultural Hall, a two-story brick building 75x200, with a stone front, on Broad street, between Locust and Spruce streets, and adoining the Academy of Music, was gutted by fire to-night. A candy exposition began in the auditorium on the 15th inst. and was to have ended to-night, and to this was the fire due. Shortly after 6 o'clock, and while three hundred people were in the building. the drapery surrounding Fry's coffee exhibit was ignited by a gas jet and the flames spread rapidly to an adjoining fireworks exhibit. The pyrotechnics exploded and in almost an instant the interior was a mass of flames. A general alarm was sounded, but in an hour nothing was left but the walls.

The candy exhibitors numbered over one hundred, and their loss aggregates $25,000. with insurance about half that. The structure, which is owned by the Horticultural Hali Society, is damaged to the extent of $80,000; covered by insurance. A five-thousand-dollar library of the society is lost, and the insurance upon it amounts to $4.500. The effects of the Florists' Club. which were in the basement, were also destroyed, and the loss is $2,000; insurance, $1,200. No one was injured, the occupants all getting out in time, although there were some narrow escapes.

Other Fires. NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., May 27 .- A fire, which broke out at 10 o'clock to-night, burned the store of T. P. & D. F. Runyon, the icehouses, stables, wagon houses and ships of John Collier, the double brick tenement house belonging to the estate of John Deinzier and a number of other small buildings. Loss, $125,000; partly covered by insurance.

NILSSON'S GIRLHOOD SONGS. A New Jersey Cobbler's Reminiscences of the Swedish Girl Singer.

of the Amazon Hostery Company, Chicago;

Eagle Paper box Company, of Detroit, and

A veteran shoemaker of Deckertown, N. J., says that he was a neighbor in Sweden of the parents of Christine Nilsson, the famous Swedish singer. His name is Carl Ringqvist, and his native place is a country district about six miles from the town of Holmstadt. Christine Nilsson's father, he says, was a country violinist, and was engaged at most of the social gatherings in the district. Besides his wife he had two children, Christine and her brother. The latter was an excellent violiniet, and Christine, even when a child, possessed a sweet and fascinating voice, and the two used to sing and play for the pennies of the country folk.

One day, says cobbler Ringqvist, they strolled as far as Holmstadt and on entering the town went on the grounds of a wealthy gentleman, who sat on his porch. Young Nilsson began to play on his violin and the old man asked the little girl to sing. She did so, and so charmed was the gentleman with her voice that he called his family and soon all stood listening to ber, among them being two of his daughters who were being educated in music. Little Christine and her brother were well rewarded for their efforts and after their way. That night the gentleman drove to the humble home of the Nilssons and then and there secured permission to take Christine to his home and have her educated at his expense with his daughters. In one year she developed wonderfully in voice cultture and at an amateur entertainment given soon after in Stockholm captured the cultured people of the Swedish capital. She next took lessons from a celebrated German teacher and soon became famous on two continents.

BARE OLD CREMONA VIOLIN. Suit at St. Louis to Recover an Instrument Valued at $5,000.

Augusta Chronicle. St. Louis is about to have a legal proceeding over what is declared to be a very valuable violin, and, if its history is correctly given, it would doubtless command a high price. Apart from the rare instrument, which is described in the legal proceedings as worth $5,000, which makes it a matter of general interest, Augusta has a special interest in the matter because of the claimant of the violin, Mrs. Rebecca Rhett, who will be more readily recalled as Mrs. William H. Rhett, who, as Miss "Honey" Massengale, was an appreciated visitor to relatives in this city several years ago.

Mrs. Rhett declares the violin is worth $5,000, and gave bond in the sum of $10,000, and sued out a petition of repievin before Judge Klein, who thereupon sent a deputy sheriff and seized the justrament from Emile Karst, the ex-French consul. Mrs. Rhett alleges that the violin is a "Guanieri," made in Cremona in 1782, and the mate to the famous one used by Paganini, and at his death bequeathed to his native played once a year. It is said that the St. Louis violin belonged to Ole Bull, and that, being hard up for money, he sold it, in 1850, to H. T. Massengale for $100. Mr. Massengale took it to St. Louis, and some years ago he pledged it to Jerome Hill as security for a loan of $100. Karst saw the violin and tried to buy it, but Hill refused to sell it, so Karst borrowed it, and has kept it ever since. Hill transferred his title to the instrument to Mrs. Rhett, who is Mr. H. T. Massengale's daughter, and she has decided to take legal steps to recover the property.

Nest of Concealed Smalipox. NEW YORK, May 27 .- A nest of concealed smallpox in a crowded tenement district was unearthed by the health inspectors today. A card was received from a Harlem doctor at the health board, this morning, notifying that there was a case of smallpox at No. 1294 First avenue. The patient was a child one year old named Mary Vick, daughter of a Bohemian cigarmaker, who lived on the fourth floor of a big tenement house. An inspector called at the house, but was unable to find the wife had taken the child early in the morning to Astoria, L. I. In making a thorough search of the big tenament for the missing child the inspector discovered no less than three other children in different families who had smallpox, but were convalescing. They had been sick for weeks, being unattended, and avoiding all the sanitary laws regulating such cases.

The Church of the Future,

Chicago Journal. Christianity is eternal, but Calvinism is not. The church organizations which will succeed best in the future are those which are distinguished by a broad and tolerant policy. The time has gone by for theological hair-splitting, and unless the champions of old-style orthodoxy recognize and submit to the modifications of religious thought they will ultimately discover that they are a very small, close corporation with no influence outside their own select Cigars. Some Burgiar Overlooked a Good Thing. Between 11 and 12 o'clock last night officer Corban found the doors of the Taylor carpet house, on South Illinois street, standing wide open, and on further investigation dicovered that the safe was unlocked. It was at first supposed that the store had been burglarized, but later it was learned that the proprietors neglected to lock up before leaving. Inside the safe was almost a thousand dollars.

Ora Durst, the young man confined at the City Hospital with a bullet in his lung. was last night reported to be much better, and the hospital physicians now think there is a possibility of his recovery. Yesterday the young ladies whom he protected with his life again called at the hospital, but were unable to see the young man, and left a magnificent offering of flowers as a token of their grati-

TWO KINDS OF WOMEN need Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription - those who want to be made strong, and those who want to be made well. It builds up, invigorates, regulates, and cures. It's for young women who have reached the critical "change of life"; for women expecting to become mothers; for mothers who are nursing and exhausted; for every woman who is run-down, delicate, or overworked.

For all the disorders, diseases, and weaknesses of women, "Favorite Prescription" is the only remedy so unfailing that it can be guaranteed. If it doesn't benefit or cure, in every case, the money will be returned.
